The Oil Book

An Authority
On California Oil

Sent Free
Upon Request

A weekly publication devoted to the oil industry. The May dividends of the California oil companies listed on the exchanges amount to about $1,500,000, while there are many other oil companies paying dividends whose stocks are not listed and whose dividends are not included in the total given above.

All of which proves the magnitude of California's greatest industry and shows that it is returning enormous profits to the investors.

As soon as a man becomes an owner of oil stock he takes a new interest in the oil industry; he wants all the information about it that he can get; he wants to know what the various companies are doing; what developments are under way and what the prospects are for the future.

All this information will be found in The Oil Book. Complete information and knowledge is the keynote to successful and profitable investment, and it is along those lines that The Oil Book has proven of such great value to its readers.

The average investor knows the name of a good many oil companies, but he doesn't know where their properties are located or what the companies are doing. The Oil Book contains news of all the active companies from time to time—news about scores of companies each week.

It doesn't matter how much you may know about the oil industry, you will get new ideas and additional information from The Oil Book. You will learn things about the industry that you can get from no other source—you will find in it news published by no other paper or magazine.

Send for the issue of June 13th and read the story of the growth of the great Union Oil Company of California and the financial statement of the same. If you are not already a subscriber, send for the back numbers containing the special articles by well-known writers, all of which are handsomely illustrated.

In order that you may be able to determine that The Oil Book will be of value to you, we will send it to six months absolutely free. Just fill out the coupon and mail—but do it today.
